Describe at least one instructional improvement or change made as a result of student evaluations or any individual assessment technique used. Be sure to cite the course or courses.

Especially in my Economics 212 classes, we discuss regularly current economic events pertinent to our lectures. In response to this, I have observed that students have started bringing copies of relevant news pieces to the classroom.

I hold regular help sessions before each exam for those needing extra help before their exams. My lectures and previous exams are available on Blackboard.
